

Artist Statement

Julie Martindale

Spring this year brings with it an even deeper meaning than ever before in our lifetimes. We need hope. We need a promise that life will bloom out of the dark days we have weathered. That is what has inspired me to create...That is what has inspired me to see the hope that comes with spring.