

Artist Statement

Rita Beyer Corrigan

Looking forward to travel when spring arrives, I look back at past camping trips in the National parks. My recent focus in painting has been on images evoking memories of Glacier Park. Painting gives me an escape into the past by taking me out of everyday stress. Bringing nature's images into my work gives me peace and joy as I lose myself painting.